A ROUND OF TALK.

Midnight in March.

The soft clouds lifted to westward. Shitied. Murky mingles under the moon: The fog-fold creeping where swamps are sleeping. A gust that browns gath'ron soon. The west wind musters its bracing blusters. And tells the night that the rain is just; The march road reveals in needed levels; A sloth of drops from the eaves is cast.

A single sentry, of barnyard gentry, Drowsily ventures the hour to tell, While o'er the clearing's second, hearing, Tells his neighbor that all is well. With bowed head under the saddened center of interest holding this scene of night: Where friends who weathered the way are gathered To comfort a spirit plumed for flight.

Within the cottage of dying death, The vigil light burns lower yet, And paints pathetic and half prophetic Signs of a sorrow in silhouette. With folded fingers, the pilgrim lingers Crouching with pain by the valley's verge. Fly over, love over, O' wistful rovers, Or tune your strings to a funeral dirge!

—Stanley Van.

GROWING—The business men of Washington county are encouraged over the prospects of their club or association in an account of whose organization we gave last week. Another meeting was held last Friday and more members were taken in. It was decided to call it the "Washington County Business Men's Association," the idea being to admit as members all business and professional men who so desire and not to confine the membership to merchants alone. Great benefits may result from the organization in the way of promoting a better feeling and a more thorough understanding as regards business methods among local business men. It is thought that the forming of this organization of business men will lead to something better later on by enlarging its scope. It could be made to fill the place of a Commercial Club, and promote local enterprise, and encourage the location of other new industries in our town.

GOD PLAN—Mr. M. H. Jones, the produce man, is the promoter of a plan for boosting the price of poultry and eggs which should make him the friend of every chicken raiser in the county. Mr. Jones' plan is briefly this. He proposes to ship poultry direct to the New York market in car load lots and can thereby obtain a considerable advance in the price over Louisville figures. He can therefore pay the country people a higher price for their products. In order to get the poultry in quantities sufficient to make the car load shipments Mr. Jones has enlisted the assistance of country merchants throughout the county who will pay a uniform price which will be an advance over old prices. The plan was clearly illustrated this week when chickens were received here at 10 cents per pound when under the old method of handling them eight cents was the ruling figure. The same method will be applied on the egg market. We see no reason why every farmer and country merchant should not co-operate in the plan. It means more money to the producer as well as to the handler.

ITCHING.—The city council has we understand passed an ordinance in regard to the hitching of horses on Main street. The new law will make it a violation for the owner to allow his horse to stand on the streets longer than one hour. The country people who come to town to do their trading are quite sensitive in regard to Iowa laws made for their benefit and the new law will doubtless cause some kicking although it appears to us to be reasonable enough. A man who comes to town to spend the day ought to have enough regards for his horse to put it in a stable anyway. By the way one would be astonished to know the total disregard which so many so called good men have for the comfort of their horses. I have seen men enter into town on a bitterly cold or rainy day and tie their horses up to a telegraph pole without so much as a blanket over them and go off and leave the poor beast to shiver and suffer for hours at a time, while the thoughtless owner is toasting his shins over some stove. Horses have been known to be taken with a fatal illness through just such exposures and in each case the owner feels dumbfounded that he is a victim of hard luck, when it is his own fault. Were it not for the suffering of unfortunate animals one would be tempted to say it serves such horse owners right.

POPULAR APPOINTMENT—Judge I. H. Thurman has appointed Robert Noe as Clerk of the Washington Circuit Court to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mr. F. M. Campbell. The appointment holds good until next November when an election will be held for the purpose of filling the place. The appointment of Mr. Noe is a popular one and Judge Thurman could scarcely have selected man more thoroughly qualified for the position than Bob Noe. He has been Mr. Campbell's deputy for several years and is familiar with the work. He is popular with lawyers and litigants and the appointment is taken as a deserved recognition of his ability.

ADVERTISERS—Our readers will do themselves a favor to read the advertisements of merchants and other business men in this issue. The men who pay to tell the public what they have to sell will make it to your advantage to deal with them.

Bill Thorne.

Before the legislature adjourned, Bill Thorne, the Lieutenant Governor, made a spectacle of himself and it he was not already a dead politically he would have put the finishing touches to the job. Profanity is disgusting even in any man who claims to be a gentleman but when a man sitting as the President of the Senate and the second highest officer of the State, swore because he could not control the Senate to subvert the whiskey interests, he transcended every law of decency and respectability. It is true he apologized for his profanity, but that cannot wipe out the fact that he has descended so low in the scale of respectability as to forget the high office he held. —E'town News.

DEATH OF F. M. CAMPBELL.

Circuit Court Clerk and a Useful and Benevolent Citizen Gone to His Reward.

Last Thursday evening the 15th inst., 11:40 o'clock, Mr. Francis M. Campbell passed away, surrounded by all the members of the family, after about two weeks of intense suffering. The immediate cause of his death was blood poison resulting from hemorrhoids.

Francis M. Campbell, the fourth child of George P. and Lucy Martin Campbell, was born December 31, 1836. His paternal grandfather, Nathaniel Campbell, a native of Virginia and of Scotch descent, came to Kentucky in 1812, settling near Shelbyville. In 1819 he came to this county and died three years later. At his death, George P. Campbell, father of Francis M., being the oldest of a family of eight children assumed the support of his mother and the family, following the vocation of farming.

Francis M. Campbell received a good English education and at the age of twenty began teaching school in this county and continued teaching thirteen years.

February 18, 1865, he married Miss Fannie Campbell and to that union were born ten children, of whom seven survive: Arthur B., Idella, Lula B., Myrtle, Theodore, Bessie and Pearl. Robert died about four years ago. The other two died in infancy. Death deprived Mr. Campbell of his wife and the children of their mother fifteen years ago and he has since kept the family together and been a kind, generous and indulgent parent, withholding nothing within his ability and power to gratify and give pleasure to his children.

Early in youth or in 1854 Mr. Campbell, united with the Beech Grove Baptist church and his life was one of "Charity for all and malice toward none" loving his fellowmen with the open-hearted, open-handed generosity of his nature. It has often been said of him that he "was generous to a fault, but he had a keen insight, and understanding of human nature that discriminated between the worthy needy and the impostor and seldom was he the victim of the dishonest recipient of his beneficence."

In 1884 Mr. Campbell was elected sheriff of this county by the Democratic party, to which political belief he always subscribed, being at all times a loyal partisan upholding the tenets of that party as a worthy standard bearer for his county and State. He was elected to the office for the second time and served the term out. In 1892 Mr. Campbell was elected to the office of Circuit Court Clerk and again in 1897 was elected to the same office without opposition. He was nominated and elected again as clerk in 1900 and was consequently serving his third term at the time of his death.

Mr. Campbell was a director in the First National Bank, a director in the Washington County Fair Association and identified in various other ways with public enterprises of the town and county. He was a member of the firm of Jarboe & Campbell, millers, and up until a few years ago owned and operated a farm.

In the death of Mr. Campbell born and found that one of his ewes had dropped three lambs. He went back to the house and got his breakfast and returned to the barn to see how the ewe and children were getting along and found, to his amazement, that during his brief absence the ewe had dropped a four h lamb. Mr. C. B. Sims also came into our office and told a sheep story. He said he had a female pointer that had given birth to a pup which he killed. A lamb took up with the dog, which began to suckle it and it follows her about the place. Mr. Sims thinks that as this dog is raising sheep instead of killing them she ought to be exempt from taxation.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Doctors Dazzled

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McVey, of Vanceboro, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and congestion of the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die when as a last resort I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." Cures the worst coughs and colds, bronchitis, tonsillitis, weak lungs, hoarseness and a gripper. Guaranteed by C. J. Haymon's drug store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

A Foul Murder.

What appears to be a real cold-blooded murder was committed at the county poor house in this county early Friday morning of last week. The victim was James Caldwell, an old paralyzed colored inmate of the poorhouse, and the crime was committed by Jim Huffaker, a young negro who recently came to Lebanon and was sent to the poor house when he suffered an attack of fever.

The old negro was struck over the head with a green chair club about three feet long and a half diameter, which fractured the skull and death followed within a few minutes.

There was another inmate in the same room, but he was asleep and knows nothing about what occurred before the killing. However, Huffaker confessed that he did the killing, and Monday when called for examining trial waived examination and was sent to jail.

Coroner Ivo Russell held an inquest over the dead body about 1 o'clock Friday. The jury was composed of O. T. Peterson, Quincy Hogan, H. W. Wright, Sam Fleece, J. E. Redlings and A. T. Bickett, and their verdict was that Caldwell came to his death from wounds inflicted with a club in the hands of Jim Huffaker. —Leb-Falcon.

Hardin County Moonshiners.

Several Hardin county men, charged with setting up and operating a "moonshine" distillery or working in the same, entered pleas of guilty in the United States Court in Louisville and were given sentences as follows: John and McClelland McGuffin, John Horn were each fined $500 and given a jail sentence of six months. Bud and J. McGuffin were given a jail sentence of thirty days.

The prisoners were ordered to be confined in the Hardin county jail, their keep to be paid by the government.

The former three are not in a financial condition to pay their fines and will be compelled to liquidate the same by jail confinement. —E'town News.

Adair County.

The bill introduced in the legislature to place Adair county in the Fourth Congressional district was brought to the front one day and was killed by the skillful tactics of tactics on amendments, making it impossible of passage. The truth of the whole matter is that the representative from the Third district sent on giving Butler to the fourth, knocked us out by press his claim and doing so when no hope of carrying his point could be seen or entertained. The Fourth was willing to add Adair to the failure of passage is not due to the action of its representatives. The truth is that Hon. J. M. Mitchell, representative from Greer and Taylor, stood for the bill with all the firmness and fidelity that enters into the makeup of an honest, courageous man, and furthermore he was truly and honestly representing his counties in this matter. Democrats of Adair are not unmindful or unappreciative of Mitchell's position, and in the future we trust that we can have an opportunity to show him in a more substantial way, the true appreciation of Adair county Democrats for the honest and faithful efforts to help us on and all us in so doing. As it is we are left in the Eleven-h to fight as we have in the past with not leaving a ray of hope. Many of Adair county Democrats were willing to be placed anywhere just to get out of the Eleven-h, but so far as we are concerned it makes no little difference whether we were left in our present district or switched on the Third, for the bulk of political pirates of that district has no brotherly feeling for our county. Their action only justifies a political scheme to strip Butler for Adair and dispose of 800 Republican majority in the deal. The News will still do its duty as it sees it, regardless of environment, for our county, So here Ken-tucky and Democrat principles. Rightfully, we should be placed in the Fourth, but the chances at present has gone glimmering. —Adair News.

An Antidote.

The strongest argument in favor of whiskey we have heard in a long time comes from Maysville, Ky., as follows: "Gus Crawford, full of liquor, lay down on the L. & N. track yesterday afternoon near this city, and the north bound passenger train struck him and knocked him about one hundred feet, when picked up he was a dead bone broken. He had five bottles of whiskey, none of which was broken. Three suits of underwear and other clothes in proportion were on his body." Just think what would have happened to Mr. Crawford had he been duly sober when the pilot of the locomotive struck him! As an antidote for railroad accidents whiskey seems to be the only thing that will counteract the effects at once.—Glasgow Times.

Brain Leaks.

God's books never made bad boys. It is a wise wife who posts her own letters. A real Christian doesn't have to use words to tell it. The man who jumps at conclusions lands with a jar. Some men loudly demand justice while softly praying for mercy. A story that is not fit for ladies to hear is unfit for gentlemen to tell. When a man begins wondering if he looks his age it is a sign that he does.

Men have missed golden opportunities by merely doing something just to pass away the time. The man who takes no part in politics has no moral right to talk about political corruption. People who have nothing worth while to talk about usually manage to keep up a lively conversation. Some men chloroform their conscience and then flatter themselves that they are doing right because they feel no remorse. The more experience men and woman have in rearing children the slower they are to give advice about rearing children.

The Printing Office

The printing Office has indeed proved a better thing than a boy, has graduated more useful and conspicuous members of society, has brought more intellect out and turned it into practical useful channels, awakened more minds, inspired more active and elevated thoughts, than many of the literary colleges of the country. A boy who commences in such schools, as printing office will have his talents and ideas brought out and if he is a careful observer experienced in the profession will contribute more toward an education than can be obtained in almost any other manner.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1906.

We are authorized to announce

as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Washington Circuit Court. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We publish this week the announcement card of Mr. Robert Noe who is a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk subject to action of the Democratic party. Mr. Noe is now occupying the office under an appointment from Circuit Judge Thurman and has determined to ask the voters of the county to elect him to the office next November, provided of course he receives the endorsement of his party. There is perhaps no harder worker in the Democratic ranks in the county than Bob Noe and it would be nothing more than a fitting recognition of his services as a public servant to have him with this office. He is thoroughly qualified for the duties having served in the capacity of deputy clerk for several years. Mr. Noe is known to nearly every voter in the county and is popular with all and he would be a hard man to defeat in an election before the people.

The members will have to content themselves to doing the work cut out for them to do the extra session. Gov. Beckham has made the positive statement that he will not, for any purpose whatever extend the call for the extra session of the General Assembly. Some wanted the call extended to consider an appropriation for the Jamestown Exposition.

Forest View

John Hamilton and Albert Medley left here last Friday for Louisville where they will make their future home.

Mr. Pate Hamilton visited near Lexington Academy last week.

Mr. Pias Nally has a very sick family with the grip.

Mr. Burt Smith has moved to the farm bought by Kent B. and Ford from Mr. Dock Blanford.

Charles McJinnis horse became entangled in the harness last Sunday night and cut its self very bad.

We hear some talk about local option, but we guess it will be the perfume of roses, waste its existence on the desert air.

The poles have been put in place and the wires have been strung along the Springfield and Shepherd's Run turnpike, but the 1 mile of the line has not yet been heard.

It is a matter of a question of the entire system. It locks in the diseased organs and body poisons and affords them all play, inviting them to seek for food.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth Melver, of Vaneboro, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends.

He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and congestion of the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die as a last resort I was introduced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life."

Cures the worst coughs and colds, bronchitis, tonsillitis, weak lungs, hoarseness and a gripper. Guaranteed at C. J. Haydon's drug store, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

MAUD.

As the old darkey said in slave time "The more rain the more shine," and this holds true in the case of the farmers here. We have needed the bridge across the river more than ever the past few weeks.

Mr. Gay Dawson wife and little daughter, of Bloomfield, visited Mr. Herbert Edleman and family near here Saturday.

Mr. Ham Shewmaker and his daughter visited Mr. L. L. Treatman and wife last Sunday.

Will Virgin was in Bloomfield Saturday afternoon. The skating rink seems to have an attraction for him as well as the number of young folks.

Bro. Rogers delivered an excellent sermon at New Hope last Sunday morning. His subject being "Words, thoughts, actions, conscience and the heart."

Bro. Eaden, of Chapin Fork, will preach next Sunday morning and night.

Mrs. Kate Virgin, Mrs. Jennie Barlow and son, Dixie, and Misson Jones and Lili Shubin were guests of Mrs. Thos. Virgin and daughter Wednesday last.

Mr. Edward Nalley and wife, of Harrodsburg, and Mrs. Katharine Settle and Mr. Bertie Flaugh of Springtown were guests of Mrs. F. S. Nettles Sunday last.

Messrs. I. N. and Richard Arnold were in Springfield Friday.

Miss Fairy Lydman has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Will Edleman, of Zion, for the past week.

"Frizzle Head."

ANTIOCH

Bro. C. C. Alle filled his regular appointment at Fair View church Sunday.

Miss Lill Yeager and Mr. Bob Robinson were united in marriage last Friday at the home of the bride. Rev. Dennis of Sharpville officiated. A nice supper was served that night.

All were present except Mr. Wm. Robinson's the next day.

Mr. Wm. Moore and his son, Henry, entertained a number of friends at the home of his uncle, Mr. A. J. Noor, Saturday night.

All were present except Mr. Wm. Robinson's the next day.

Mr. D. C. Kelly sold his crop of tobacco in Louisville last week.

Mr. Thos. Reed, sold his crop of tobacco to H. M. Moss at 80 per lb.

Sol Kaves of Polin, was in this section Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Pinkston visited relatives near Polin Sunday.

Mr. N. P. Thompson, of Pleasant Grove was in our midst Sunday.

Mr. Geo. Tucker sold his tobacco to H. M. Moss for 80 per lb., to be delivered next week.

Meridith Wohner, of Wil is here in our midst Sunday.

Among those who attended meeting at this place Sunday afternoon, were Messrs. Steve Scott and Shelton Montgomery, of Polin. Their presence was very much appreciated, as they are both able singers, and assisted greatly with their singing, which seems to be a most difficult part of the service, as our boys and girls, lack knowledge along this line.

Rev. Pinkston will deliver a Temperance lecture Saturday night the 24th at the school house at this place.

Although we have had much inclement weather, during the past ten days of our meeting, it has this far proven a successful attendance each service, which at 2 in the afternoon and 7 at night. Rev. Pinkston is a fine talent, and each evening one of his and adjoining vicinity should hear him. On last Saturday he delivered a warm lecture on a "hot subject," His text, "Hell and its kindred fires." The following service was upon "The second coming of Christ," in which he clearly set forth things which would, or should bring every one to conviction to live a better life. Services will close Sunday night the 25th and every one is invited to attend the remaining of the week.

Miss Grace Lair, one of the most prominent society girls of community, spent a few days last week at Elm Hill.

W. G. Perkins has removed from Bookers to the farm of Billy Cheatham.

THE OLD RELIABLE FIRM.

WAS BORN IN THIS COUNTY

The Mother of Walter Q. Gresham, who Died Recently, a Native of This County.

Situated on Little Beech river, about seven miles north east of Springfield, is a house whose early history is recalled by the death, a few days ago over in Harrison county, Ind., of Mrs. Sarah Ramsey, mother of the late Gen. Walter Q. Gresham, Secretary of State during the second administration of President Cleveland. It was in this house that Mrs. Ramsey was born 99 years ago. She was one of the oldest residents of southern Indiana and died at her home near Lansville to which she moved when a bride nearly eighty years ago. She celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday anniversary September 5, 1905, and had she lived but a few months longer would have rounded out the century of life. She is survived by five children, three by the first husband—Miss Media Gresham, of Lansville; Mrs. Bessie Smith, of St. Louis, and Judge William Gresham, of St. Peter, Minn.—and two by her last husband, Noah Bruner, Mrs. Charles Gresham, wife of a distant relative of her first husband, and George Ramsey, both of Harrison county. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. Q. Gresham, and her grandson, Otto Gresham, both of Chicago, and her daughter, Mrs. Smith, of St. Louis, also survive her.

Mrs. Ramsey's maiden name was Davis and she was the twelfth of sixteen children, and she went with her parents to Indiana when but six years of age. She was married when quite young to Mr. Gresham, who was killed while attempting to arrest a desperado named Spies, being at the time Sheriff of Harrison county. Three sons of the aged woman were distinguished officers of the Civil War—the late Gen. W. Q. Gresham, the late Col. Benjamin Gresham and Col. William Gresham, who is now an eminent jurist in Minnesota. Her son, Gen. W. Q. Gresham, was greatly attached to her and he visited her every month, even after he had become Judge of the United States Court, Postmaster General, Secretary of the Treasury and Secretary of State.

The house on the Little Beech, formerly the home of Mrs. Ramsey's parents, is now owned and occupied by Mr. John Tobin, a prosperous farmer. The house has been added to and changed somewhat in later years, but the old original portion, which is of brick, is still a part of the home. The house stands on an eminence over looking the Little Beech river and is known as the old Oswell Gray place. It has been owned for a number of years by Mr. Oswell Gray. It was later owned by Mr. Thos. J. Nalley, who sold it to John Tobin, the present owner. It has long been a belief that there was a silver deposit on the little branch that runs into the Beech a short distance from the house. The story is handed down that the Indiana once found silver in that vicinity and got out a quantity of the ore. In later years a party of prospectors did open a place on Tick creek, a few hundred yards from this point in a search for silver, but their efforts were unsuccessful.

Who Struck Billy Patterson?

The school people in cities of the Fifth Class were rearing perfectly comfortable over the situation as to the County Unit bill when the Chinn measure passed the Senate exempting cities of the fifth class from the provisions of the law. They thought it was an absolute certainty that they would have no trouble with legislation at this session. While they were congratulating themselves over the situation of the House restored fifth class cities to the bill passed it once and the Senate concurred in it too quick to tell about.

What caused this sudden change? Who did it? Who struck Billy Patterson? It's dead easy to us. We can track a politician as easy as Daniel Boone could a deer. The administration at Frankfort had absolute control of the Legislature. It did not want to pass the temperance law because the whiskey interests had been very friendly, but they are looking out for the next State election. The temperance people were red hot as to how they had been thrown down by the Administration and they simply laid the riot act to them and threatened things in the next election which would endanger if not defeat the ticket. The administration has a full sense of it. It saw the hand writing on the wall and it trembled. The word was passed along the line to get the fifth class bill to include cities of the fifth class and to pass it quick. It was done in a jiffy. The men in the Senate who had voted the other way fopped over upon command from headquarters and the whiskey men were beaten to save the Democratic party. It is dead easy when you look at it right.—E-Town News.

Women's Kidneys.

Women are more often afflicted with kidney diseases than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are deranged. Nervousness, headache, puffiness of the face, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Sold by Smock & Haydon.

Mr. Zion Echoes.

The farmers of our community are busy clearing off and preparing their ground despite the change the weather so they can begin their work in earnest when spring really opens. But it seems that we are going to have six weeks winter.

Mr. George Russell, wife and baby of Ashia's Creek, visited the former mother, Mrs. R. A. Russell, last Sunday.

Miss Eleanor Hays, a charming girl of Bloomfield, visited at the home of her grandfather, Mr. J. B. Hays, last week.

Mrs. J. R. Williams and daughter, Lydia, spent Friday with her son, Mr. Bruce Williams, at Midway.

Messrs. Hines Neale, Herbert Crum and Newton Arnold were in Bloomfield Saturday night.

Misses Nora and Blanch Bonta were in Bloomfield Saturday shopping.

Miss Grant Hays after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. Martha Graham, in Louisville returned home last Saturday.

Mr. Jas. Hood, wife and daughter, Lilly spent several days last week with Mrs. Hood's mother, Mrs. Vice, at Mt. Washington.

Mr. Joe Bishop and family, of Springfield, attended church here Sunday and visited relatives in this community.

Master Hugh Sanford Williams of Midway, spent Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams.

Miss Carrie Neal, of Chaplin Fork, after a several week's visit to her aunt, Miss Carrie Russell, returned to her home last Wednesday. Mr. Charles Semmones, of Harrodsburg, and Mr. John Russell, of Vanarsdall, visited relatives here last week. THE TATTLEERS.

Board of Control.

Frankfort, Ky.,—Adj. Gen. Percy Haly, of Frankfort, Dr. Milton H. Board, of Breckinridge county, and Judge David B. Redwine, of Breathitt county, were appointed as members of the Board of Control, which will have charge of the insane asylums of Kentucky and the feeble minded institute. Gov. Beckham sent his appointments to the Senate and they were immediately confirmed. In length of service the members range four, three and two years. Adj. Gen. Haly securing the longest term.

The law went into effect with the signature of the Governor and all the local boards are out. No changes will be made in the officers of the different institutions until the board visits them and inspects the bonds.

Adj. Gen. Haly is the best known member of the board. He has been in the public eye for ten or twelve years and in official position for about half that time, always in the confidence of Gov. Beckham, who values him highly. His advancement leaves the position of Adjutant General vacant, which will not be filled until the office is vacated.

Dr. Board is Superintendent of the Western Asylum at Hopkinsville and his retirement leaves a vacancy, also to be filled by the Governor.

Judge Redwine first became prominent as Chairman of the Louisville convention which nominated Senator William Goebel for Governor.

ANOTHER PLAN

Tobacco Growers are Being Urged to Plant no Crop in 1907.

The Harrodsburg Herald publishes the following as a good plan to keep the up the price of tobacco. It says: "All other remedies having failed or proved abortive to the growers of White Burley tobacco in the forty counties of Kentucky in which that crop is the staple product have raised the war cry of no crop for 1907 as the only means left by which the hand of the American Tobacco Company can be shaken from the district. This is a radical and harsh remedy but it is believed by those in a position to judge that it will be the most effective remedy that can be employed. The following is an excerpt from a letter from the pen of G. P. Harris, assessor of Carroll county, and a large tobacco grower, which is being published in the papers of the district. The proposition above mentioned does not require any money, but it requires a determination on the part of every land owner to sign an agreement not to raise or have raised any tobacco on his land in 1907, and keep that contract inviolable.

The preparatory arrangements have been made to grow a crop in 1906. The time that sowing is at hand. Be sure that we grow crop, and when the first day of May, 1907, comes and no tobacco seed are sown, the price will regulate itself to the satisfaction of all holders of tobacco. The corn crop was almost a failure in 1901; prior to that time corn was current at 25 cents per bushel. Now four years since it is worth 40 cents, with the greatest crop ever grown. So with the tobacco crop with one crop out. We explode the gas of overproduction and place the supply in a position that will create competition. We believe that practically all the land owners will sign this agreement if properly presented to them, as it appears to be the last chance and by far the most feasible plan. Now is the time to act."

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Kidney Cure, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advance stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from cold. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Smock and Haydon.

The Strenuous Life

Results in Stomach Troubles and Physical Breakdown. The Red Cross Drug Store Offers Simple Remedy.

The strenuous life of modern times forces people to rush through their meals hastily hurrying from the table in the mad rush after the almighty dollar.

The result is incomplete digestion, inflammation of the walls of the stomach, and lack of secretion of the gastric juices, ending in chronic stomach troubles and nervous breakdown.

How much better it would be to eat more slowly, cure the stomach troubles with Milo's, and soon regain perfect health. The headaches, sleepless nights, nervous troubles, pain after eating, specks before the eyes, backaches, melancholy and gloomy foreboding would be soon over come and perfect health and strength would be restored.

So reliable is Milo's in curing all forms of stomach weakness and troubles that the Red Cross Drug Store gives a signed guarantee that the remedy will cost you nothing unless it cures. Each box of Milo's sells for 50 cents, and is invaluable to any one who suffers with indigestion, nervousness or weak stomach.

Facts Twisted.

Washington, D. C.—Representative Bennett, of New York, who attacked Kentucky yesterday afternoon upon the score of illiteracy, lawlessness, etc., in a pamphlet in her judiciary, answering a statement of Representative Hopkins, reflecting on New York, made an interesting speech, but had some of his facts twisted.

Mr. Bennett said that Curtis Jett, who killed James M. Smith, one of our prominent citizens of Breathitt, was "still at large."

Mr. Smith corrected Mr. Bennett, stating that Jett was serving a life sentence and was indicted in other cases.

"It seems to me that Mr. Jett was a very busy man in Breathitt," said Mr. Bennett, thinking Mr. Smith for the correction.

"At any rate the point I wanted to make is that the appalling thing is that Hargis and Callahan were renominated for the offices of County Judge and Sheriff of Breathitt three years after Jett shot Marcus, after the latter's difference with Hargis."

"The everlasting credit of Breathitt county the non-violence were overwhelmingly defeated."

The speech referred to by Mr. Bennett was made three weeks ago. Mr. Bennett discussed exhaustively the illiteracy of the in the Kentucky mountains.

Dick Miller.

Mr. R. W. Miller, the Representative from Madison county, easily distinguishes himself as the ablest and the most influential member of the House. Defeated by Speaker, because he allied himself with the Blackburn forces, he had difficulties to overcome to win recognition as the real floor leader when some important question was under consideration. He made the only two great speeches that were made in the Legislature and in each instance so convincing was his argument and so great was his eloquence, that he became all eyes and ears and put through the measures without a dissenting voice. We do not remember when such a thing was ever before done in the Legislature. It was really fortunate for Dick Miller that he was defeated by Speaker, as he has won a greater laurels upon the floor than he could possibly have obtained in the Speaker's chair. If the people of the Eighth District know a good thing when they see it they will send him to Congress. He is an orator, a student, a lawyer, an honest man and a gentleman.—E-Town News.

Fatally Wounded.

The usual ending to a crap game, in which negroes are engaged, was brought out yesterday afternoon at Davisville. Just over the Boyle county line when Thomas Farley shot and fatally wounded James Smith. Both parties are young negroes. The shooting was the result of a quarrel over the owner of the spoils, and it is claimed that Smith was the aggressor. Both negroes bear very good reputations in the community where they live among the white element. Farley was arrested by Sheriff Clayton Arnold and Dick Moore, of Garrard county, and taken to Lancaster. LATER—A telephone message received at 3 o'clock stated that Smith died at 1 o'clock.—Danville Advocate.

Wild Dogs.

On the farm of Mr. C. P. Cecil under the floor of an old barn on a remote part of the place there has been discovered a band of wild dogs that have been in the corn field at night, but stay in hiding during the day. Every farmer in that section who raises sheep has been troubled with the loss of several of his flock by dogs, and it is now the opinion of all of them that this newly discovered band has been doing the damage. It is almost impossible to reach the canines during the day as the barn is filled with hay and the flooring is so close to the ground they can hardly be seen. A tenant on the farm notified Mr. Cecil of the fact. A few days ago Mr. Jeff Salice succeeded in killing a number of them, but there are several in the bed yet. An effort will be made to rid the place of these worthless curs by watching for them at night when they come forth for their nightly prowling. There is said to be about a dozen in the band.—Danville Advocate.

TAUGHT HIM A LESSON.

W. H. Hargis, Ky., March 20.

Editor News-Examiner: I want to talk to the old boys some today, as it is raining and I can't get out. I love to talk to them of things that happened over 41 years ago, in this way I keep in touch with the boys.

I met some of the boys occasionally after a long separation and I have to go back to their army service to get their features and trace them down to the present to recognize them, and sometimes I can't get a single feature of their former selves, but there is one boy that I have kept up with as I see him quite often, and there is a circumstance that will cause me to remember him as long as I live.

I will try and tell it as he wasn't to blame, and it taught me a valuable lesson. It was in 61 while in a camp of instruction at Lebanon, that we drilled and did guard duty, so that when we went out we would be full fledged soldiers. I was put on guard at night at a fine spring that furnished water for our camp, Joe James was Sergeant of the guard that night. I suppose he thought I was putting a trusty boy at the spring. I was a lazy or tired, or a little bit of both, I forgot my responsibility. I found a convenient seat in the back of the fence, and was fast asleep. How long I would have slept would be hard to tell but I awoke with my rifle gun and woke me up. He had taken my gun, so I had to fall in the rear without gun and he reported to the Lieutenant of the guard. He told me that I could go to the guard house until morning, I pled with him to spare me this humiliation and he relented and gave me permission to stand my turn until morning. I did so with a heavy heart but slept no more on duty or off. I was trying to restore the economy of my crime. The news soon spread that one of Company D was found asleep on post. I found sympathy in my company, one of the boys, Morris T. Roberts by name took my rifle and went to Col. O'Leary Whorton in his behalf. The Colonel came down smiling at my discomfort and kindly told me that this was only a camp of instruction and we will have to let it go this time but remember this, if we were in an enemy's country you would have been court martialled and shot.

So I faithfully promised the Colonel never to sleep on duty again, and I am sure I never did until Joe hadn't taught me this.

little lesson on the start I might have been shot for sleeping on post in face of the enemy later on. While I didn't feel very grateful to Joe for my education on that line it made a faithful vidette of me in the future, and it holds good with me to-day, I can't sleep when duty calls.

HYOMEL CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrh, Cure Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, etc. Guaranteed By The Red Cross Drug Store.

It is a noteworthy fact that, among the many medicines and treatments for Catarrh, there is only one which the Red Cross Drug Store sells under the money guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.—Hyomel, Nature's remedy for the cure of Catarrh.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomel is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomel outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making cool, clear and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomel outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomel, costs only $1. The inhaler will last a lifetime, while extra bottles of Hyomel can be procured, whenever need it, for only 50 cents.

McElroy Bros.

Higher Still.

The Burbon News says real estate dealers in Blue Grass cities report that tenant farms in Central Kentucky are scarce and that high rentals are being paid for available lands for the cultivation. This is due to the gratifying prices last year for farm products, the gradual decrease in cultivatable areas by the accretions of large stock farms of surrounding territory, and the large influx of mountain people into the center part of the state, hence those possess-land which they expect to sell are advised to hold it, as the price of land, already high, is expected not only to hold its figure, but even promises to go higher. Farm work has begun and much soil laid in the blue grass will be cultivated this year. Tobacco beds are turning in every section of the country and the indications point to increase in acreage this year.

Joseph Lussier, of Butler county, has a hen that is part duck. That is she has the head and body of a chicken, stubby tail, short legs and web feet like a duck. At times she catches them she quacks. She declines to associate with the ducks, and the hens will have nothing to do with her.

Resolutions from Bank Officials
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Springfield, on March 17, 1936, the following proceedings were had:
In the death of our colleague, F. M. Campbell, the Board is sensible of a very great loss it has sustained. Serving with us for years, he has always been faithful in the discharge of his duties. His conduct was ever characterized by the greatest courtesy and forbearance. He was patient and gave the Board in all matters the benefit of a clear judgment, unclouded by passion and uninfluenced by bias. His usefulness cannot be measured, and his place will be hard to fill. We lament our loss, but bow submissively to the will of God. We extend assurances of our sincerest and tenderest sympathies to his children, relatives and friends. The distinguishing feature of his career was his uniform goodness of heart and kindness. His death was a loss to the community, and it can be truthfully said of him that he lived "with malice toward none and charity for all." He was universally beloved and worthy of the affection so generously shown him by the people among whom his lot was cast, and he is tenderly, and as is natural, laid to rest with tears and flowers.
A patriotic, liberal, tolerant, citizen, honest official, faithful friend, affectionate, indulgent father, has gone to a better world and happier existence. He leaves his children that best of all legacies, a spotless name, and the example of a Christian life. Grieved as we are, it is a pleasure to have the privilege of bearing this testimony to his noble life, and great personal worth.

It is ordered that these proceedings be spread at large upon our records, and that the local papers be requested to publish same, and that a copy thereof be furnished the family of our colleague.
B. L. LITSEY, President.
JOHN W. LEWIS, Secretary.

COFFEE HOUSES.
The First of Them That Were Opened in Old England.
Our ancestors could little imagine that their descendants would be required to the necessity of sending to the East and West Indies for the materials for a comfortable breakfast. It is observed that while Nathaniel Conopus, a Civilian, continued in Holland, in Oxford, which he left in 1643, he made the drink for his own use called coffee and usually drank it every morning, being the first coffee, as the accident of that house informed him, that was ever drunk in Oxford.
In the year 1650, we learn, "Jacob opened a coffee house at the Angel, in the parish of St. Peter in Vintry, London, and there it was, by some who delighted in novelties, drunk. In 1654 Charles Jones, a Hebrew and Jacob's son, near Mount Libanus, sold coffee in Oxford, and in 1655 Artti Tillyard, apothecary, sold coffee publicly in his house against all Sorts of Opposition. This coffee house continued till his majesty's return and after, then they became more frequent and had a considerable on foot."
The author of the First View of London (1769) found it recorded "that one James Fane, a baronet, who kept the coffee house which is now the Rainbow, by the inner Temple gate one of the first in England, was in the year 1657 presented by the request of St. Dunstan's in the west for making and selling a sort of liquor called coffee as a great nuisance and prejudicial to the neighborhood. And who could then have thought London would ever have had near 1000 such nuisances and coffee would have been as the best of quality and physicians."
In the Kingdom's Intelligence, a weekly paper, published by authority in 1692, are inserted four advertisements, the last of which is as follows: "At the coffee house, in Exchange alley, is sold, by retail, the right coffee powder, from 4 shillings per pound, as it is, in goodness; that pounded in a mortar at 2 shillings per pound; that termed the East India berry at 18 pence per pound, and that termed the right Turk berry, well garished, at 3 shillings per pound; the sugarified for less, with directions gratis how to make and use the same."
"Likewise there you may have chocolate, an ordinary pound for 2s. 6d. per pound; perfumed from 4 shillings to 10 shillings per pound; also shortlets made in Turke of lemons, roses and violets perfumed, and tea or chocolate, according to its goodness, for all of which if any gentleman would write or send money, and the best of the best as they shall order and to avoid deceit. Warranted under the house seal—Vine, the Great, etc.
Further, all gentlemen that are customers and acquaintances are the next New Year's day invited at the sign of the Great Turk at the new fee house in Exchange alley, where coffee will be free of cost."—New York Herald.

Japanese Hard to Shave.
"It is a hard piece of work to shave a Japanese," said a New York barber who had just finished shaving one of them. "That man hasn't more than a couple dozen hairs on his face, and yet it takes me longer to shave him than any other man who comes into this shop. He won't let me use the 'Jap' razor, such curjans that I have to practically take each one separately and while he is so much more than I am, but with my razors. You can go against the grain with the average man and not bother him a bit, but you try it on a Jap's trouble. His hair is like so much wire unless you handle it just right."
"The easiest man to shave in the world and I've worked in almost every country where a barber can get a shave is a pure blooded African. His skin is like a beautiful piece of satin, and his hair is so fine and soft that it is a pleasure to have anything to do with it. Curjans that I have to shave a Jap with any other razor there is trouble for us at once—that is, so far as shaving is concerned. But for a nice hand job you are sure to get a Japanese."—New York Press.

Too Busy.
Extreme "busyness," whether at school or at college, rich or market, is a symptom of deficient vitality, and a faculty for idleness implies a catholic appetite and a strong sense of personal identity. There is a sort of "too busy" alive, backed people about who are scarcely conscious of living except in the exercise of some conventional occupation. Bring these fellows into your country or not, they should stay.

HAIR REGENERATOR

Why not stop this falling of your hair? At this rate you will soon be without any hair! Just remember that Hall's Hair Regenerator stops falling hair, and makes hair grow.

NEWS NOTES

David E. Sherick, former Auditor of Indiana, was yesterday found guilty of embezzlement. Sherick was tried on indictments charging him with mis-use of $127,000 belonging to the State. He resigned on the demand of the Gov. and the money has since been paid back into the State treasury.

Representatives of the Chicago Clearing House Committee which has charge of the affairs of John R. Walsh, held a conference with railroad officials in New York relative to the sale of the Walsh roads, but no agreement was reached.

The Democratic Committee of the First Congressional District yesterday decided to hold a primary June 8, at which unless some other candidate appears in the meantime, Ollie James will be declared the nominee for re-election.

Dr. C. Carr, veterinarian, Louisville, has recently sold a handsome pair of "Cobs" to Mr. C. E. Claggett of this city, for $1,250. This team of geldings is believed to be about the handsomest sold in this State for some years and they have proven to be prize winners, one of them having won first prize at the World's Fair at St. Louis and the other won the Henning cup at the Shelbyville Fair last year. Both of these geldings sired by the well known sh. w. horse, Glenbrook, now in the hands of Allen S. Edelen, Bargain—Farmers Home Journal.

An Inconspicuous Crime. Almost the last work that Sir Edwin Landseer was engaged upon, was a picture of a lioness, which was painted on a white parchment. This picture, in which the lioness was depicted, was bought by one of the Rothschild family and given to Sir John Mills to complete. One morning a celebrated artist, who had just finished painting the picture, was found lying on the floor, apparently dead. The picture was found to be a masterpiece of art, and the artist was found to be a man of great talent. The picture was found to be a masterpiece of art, and the artist was found to be a man of great talent.

Another Reason. Aunt Emeline is the best loved woman in the town, for her charity to all of kind and heart. Like any other excellent person, Aunt Emeline is not a church member, but she is a regular attendant at the village church, which is so near her cottage as to seem under the same roof. When, at the close of a recent service, the minister requested all those present who had been united with the church to retire at the end of service, everybody was surprised to see Aunt Emeline rise and start down the aisle.

The City Menageries. The only character of the menageries is familiar. It is known for its oil, which is tried out in factories. Menageries are used in many ways, and are tried out in many ways. Menageries are used in many ways, and are tried out in many ways.

Feedling Ducks. We have heard it said that ducks will neither grow, fatten nor lay well unless they are somewhat stuck in their food. They should never have more than is really eaten up. So fowl of any kind should be overfed when a good egg product is desired. No fowl will grow fast or fatten that is overfed. But proper feeding for eggs and proper feeding for producing weight are two different matters—Country Gentleman.

The Color Sign for a Rich Silk. A prominent sign of yellow color of the skin of the ears and of the hair covered by the tail is usually considered to be an indication that the cow in question yields a rich milk, and this opinion is certainly based upon practical observation. Breeders of channel island cattle lay a great deal of stress upon the skin of the parts named being colored a deep yellow and attach much importance to it.

Care of the Feet. A foot should not be allowed to run with its toes and the latter is a work, but should remain in a roomy, well lighted box and be taught to eat and drink with a little less, water being within reach.

The Pasture. Horses will not thrive in pastures where the water supply is limited to stagnant, muddy pools no matter how abundant the feed and how good the quality of the grasses.

Experience Teaches. The progressive farmer is the one who is willing to make failures and draw a lesson therefrom.

THE WEIGHT OF GOLD

HOW MUCH OF THE PRECIOUS METAL CAN A MAN CARRY?

Strange Follies of Many of the Past. There have been many cases of men carrying gold in their pockets, and some of them have been caught.

One of the peculiarities of civilization is that by the use of new methods we have made it possible for a man to carry more gold than he could ever carry in his pockets.

Queer South American Bird With an Extremely Large Bill. A queer kind is the toucan. It seems to have been made expressly to take charge of its huge banana shaped bill, which in some species is fully seven inches in length and more than two inches in width—entirely out of proportion to its comparatively small body.

A HISTORIC TRAGEDY

EXECUTION OF JOSEPH LESQUERES AND ITS SAD SEQUEL.

The Famous Lizard Hunter That Occurred in France Upon Which Was Founded the Popular Melodrama "The Lyons Mail."

The tragedy of the execution of Joseph Lesqueres, an innocent man, by the legal machinery of France in the eighteenth century is an incident replete with pathetic phases.

Although Lesqueres was executed as far back as 1790, though his innocence was established in 1801, though his property was restored to the family in 1803, the corpse, lying for a century to have his memory judicially rehabilitated, definitely rested in 1880 to perform this last remaining act of justice.

The penalty of French law forbade the questioning of a jury's verdict by any one save the person directly interested. But though the law has failed to remove the stigma on the name of this innocent man, literature and the drama have made him a popular hero. "The Lyons Mail," in which his honor is thoroughly vindicated, has been one of the most popular of all French melodramas, and the combined genius of Charles Reade and Henry Irving made it one of the great successes of the modern English stage.

Poor Lesqueres, who, when he perished on the scaffold, was but thirty-three years of age, was a good husband, a good father and a good citizen. He married in 1780 Miss Campan, a lady of respectable family in Douai and possessed of a handsome dowry. Their children therefore were very young, and it was in order to give them the benefit of a superior education that he removed to Paris, where he lived on his own private fortune, which amounted to about 7,500 francs a year. He had just arrived in the capital and was superintending the furnishing of his new home when the misfortune fell.

On April 27, 1790, the mail coach between Lyons and Paris was attacked and plundered, and the postilion and driver were murdered. There were no witnesses to the crime, but it was reported that a party of horsemen had been seen in the vicinity about the time it was committed. These horsemen had taken dinner at an inn at Douai, and one of them, a man named Lesqueres, was arrested on suspicion, and his private papers were seized. There was no evidence to connect him with the crime, but he was accused of having been seen in the vicinity of the crime.

It happened that just at that time the judge was taking the depositions of witnesses to the crime, and the scene of the crime was being investigated. The judge was taking the depositions of witnesses to the crime, and the scene of the crime was being investigated.

Among these were two maidens of Montevideo, who uttered imprecations at the appearance of the witnesses to the crime, but it was reported that a party of horsemen had been seen in the vicinity about the time it was committed.
